VointiLogix: A Comprehensive Laboratory Management System

After a decade of experience in enterprise HMIS solutions, we bring you VointiLogix, a solution created to cater specifically to the needs of the small, or mid-sized diagnostic centre.

We at NextGen, recognize that diagnostic centres work round the clock to cater to the needs of nearby clinics, physicians and hospitals. The problem faced by most centers is that they have both manual and automated work – they lack a seamless integration between billing, reporting, information to referring physicians and equipment. MIS reporting is not robust, and the center owner/ manager does not get enough information from the system to take informed decisions.

VointiLogix has been developed on a Microsoft platform to address the everyday transactions of diagnostic centres. The solution has been designed with the center's expansion needs in mind – it is web-based, scalable, and multilocational. It is securely accessible anytime and anywhere, through a username and password.
